

Welcome Our New Partner

We are excited to announce that Insurance Corporation of British Columbia (ICBC) has partnered with IAA to offer a transparent and accessible auction process. This partnership will enable buyers to search, view, bid, purchase and pay for ICBC salvage items online.

Mark your calendars for our first official ICBC sale on Monday, April 28, with daily auctions held every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday thereafter.

What Does This Mean for You?

All ICBC salvage items will be exclusively available through the IAA online auction platform, IAA AuctionNow™. This means you will have the convenience of completing the entire process from the comfort of your home, office and anywhere in between on your desktop or mobile device.

This open-bidding model will allow you to make more informed buying decisions by following along in real-time during auctions, as well as using the pre-bid and maximum bid features.

Registration

You will need to register as a Licensed Business Buyer (dealers or automotive related businesses only) to be able to bid on and buy ICBC salvage items.

Already an IAA Registered Buyer?

You will have full access to bid on and buy ICBC vehicles (excluding all public buyer accounts, as ICBC does not sell to those account holders) through our exclusive weekly sales upon successfully accepting our updated terms and conditions, as explained on the following page.

ICBC Buyers Located in British Columbia

The annual registration fee will be waived for ICBC buyers located in British Columbia who register with IAA.
